Gear up for a blockbuster DVD! On this trip we are headed into the outback. From Port Augusta in South Australia, we travel due north on the Stuart Highway to visit Australia's natural wonders. We stop in first at the missile-testing town of Woomera and learn about the Woomeera Prohibited Range. Next up is the bizarre town of Coober Pedy, where we tour through a working opal mine and check out an underground home. We also pay a visit to the remarkable Breakaways and world-famous Dog Fence. Finally, we hit the big daddy of them all, Uluru. It is as magnificent as it is enormous, and we pay homage to this Australian icon. We finish this trip off with a hike up Kings Canyon and a visit to the Henbury Meteorite Craters, where we learn about the 'out of this world' impact! Whatever you do, don't miss this trip!
